COMMENTS

By the above-referenced Notice of Proposed Rulemaking ("NPRM"), released July 19, 2004, the Commission proposed to substitute DTV channel 26* for channel 63* at Tulsa, Oklahoma. The proponents of the Petition for rule making, Global Education Development, Inc., Broadcasting for the Challenged, Inc., Faith That Pleases God Church, Family Educational Broadcasting, Inc, Creative Educational Media Corporation, Oral Roberts University, and Community Television Educators, Inc. (the "Petitioners"), hereby submit these Comments for the Commission's consideration.

1. The public interest served by the Commission's NPRM is self-evident. The proposed substitution of channels proposed by the Commission will ensure that Tulsa will receive new noncommercial television service after the transition to DTV.

2. As the proponents of the NPRM the petitioners hereby state, should the Commission assign noncommercial channel 26* to Tulsa, Oklahoma, that they will, when permitted by the FCC, amend their pending applications for noncommercial educational channel 63, Tulsa, Oklahoma to specify channel 26, and further represent that they will promptly construct a facility on channel 26 at the technical specifications required by the NPRM should their pending applications be granted.

WHEREFORE, the foregoing considered, Global Educational Development, Inc., Broadcasting for the Challenged, Inc., Faith That Pleases God Church, Family Educational Broadcasting, Inc., Creative Educational Media Corporation, Oral Roberts University and Community Television Educators, Inc. urge the Commission to act favorably on the above-reference rule making proposal and promptly substitute channel 26* for channel 63* in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Respectfully Submitted,
